Joint replacement is among the most effective surgeries for improving quality of life, and over 30,000 hip replacement and 50,000 knee replacement procedures are performed in Australia each year.

Now, thanks to a new initiative by Vermont Private Hospital in partnership with orthopaedic surgeons, Nexus and Medibank have worked together to offer no out of pocket costs (besides hospital excesses if applicable) for some types of hip and knee replacement surgeries for eligible Medibank members.

Eligible Medibank members may also have access to additional support before and after their hospital admission, including options for in-home rehabilitation with expert physiotherapy and other allied health support, when clinically appropriate. Contact Medibank to find out more.

Vermont Private Hospital is committed to working with surgeons to deliver superior patient care and surgical outcomes. We also believe in creating a sustainable healthcare system, and are proud to be involved in developing a care model that gives patients certainty over both the level of care, and the costs involved in their surgery.

A bright future, with better patient outcomes

We want to provide the best value for patients with private health insurance. Nexus and Medibank have worked together to ensure this new initiative makes it possible for eligible Medibank patients to have no out of pocket medical costs. Contact Medibank to find out more.

Medibank is the first private health insurer to support this new initiative at Vermont Private Hospital. Nexus with the support of Medibank, is working to expand the arrangement to cover joint replacement surgery in other Nexus hospitals across Australia.

Nexus also plans to extend the Zero Out Of Pocket arrangement to other surgical procedures such as hernia repair, to provide more certainty and peace of mind for privately insured patients.

$0 How Zero Out Of Pocket works

Pay no out of pocket costs

Nexus and Medibank have worked together to eliminate medical out of pocket costs for hip and knee replacement surgeries for eligible Medibank members. The program is available to Medibank members with appropriate cover, in consultation with their treating practitioner.

Spend less time in hospital

Vermont Private Hospital's innovative model of care means you can avoid a long stay in hospital, and have the option to recover in the comfort of your home.

Get back on your feet faster

Nexus and Medibank are working together to support patients before and after surgery, including prehabilitation services prior to surgery (delivered by Nexus), and if clinically appropriate, offering Medibank at Home rehabilitation after surgery.

Studies have shown that with the right support in place, patients have better outcomes and a better experience when they recover in the comfort of their own home.

Your joint replacement surgery at Vermont Private Hospital may include:

- Specialist physiotherapy
- Rehabilitation assessments and education
- Preparation for surgery
- Smartphone technology to assist recovery
- Rehabilitative in-home allied health care
